LODGE LORE

Fraternal Brotherhood

The Fraternal Brotherhood held its regular meeting last night. On account of it being social evening the business session was short and snappy. That the members are acquiring the get-together spirit is evident by the increase in attendance over the previous meetings. Many interesting topics were discussed regarding the future welfare of the lodge. Several candidates were voted on which will be a common occurrence now, owing to the special dispensation which is to be continued the remainder of this month.

The ladies reported that everything in regard to their bazaar which followed up nicely. That they are far sighted and foresighted is evident by the fact that they have not forgotten the gentlemen's appetites since they have made preparations for a cooked food booth where Sunday provisions may be procured. The bazaar is to be held in the afternoon and evening of December 4, and that it is going to be a success is an assured fact.

It is needless to say any thing about the social dance which followed the business session as the Fraternal Brotherhood has acquired quite a reputation for the promotion of terpsichorean art. The music was snappy, the dancers were lively and everybody reported a rip-snorting time.

Odd Fellows

The last session of Phoenix Lodge, No. 2, was one of the most inspiring ones ever held, during this term of office. Harmonious action seems to do more good in an organization than anything else can do. The first degree was pulled off in a first class manner, judging from the standpoint only a few members of the team being present. Past Grand P. W. Johnson doing excellent work with his team at that, last meeting, by distinguishing his ability in filling more than one place at the same time, and we venture to say he'll be the next degree captain. A. I. Verans expressed himself by saying he is proud now to be privileged to wear the three link and be numbered one among the great Odd Fellow family. J. L. Foote of Colorado is again located in Phoenix and is among the winter visitors. Brother Wagner of the German Lodge, Cincinnati, Ohio, is one of the most enthusiastic visitors, who is able to throw some singer into the meetings, he's been an Odd Fellow over 26 years and since coming to the Salt River Valley has learned to milk five cows, the first in his life, since he learned his prayers at his mother's knees. J. T. Davis of Truth Lodge, No. 47, Seetro Woolley, Washington, at last found the land of his heart's desire, he expects to locate in Southern Arizona with his family. Dr. M. Nelson, of Gabilan Lodge, No. 372, Gonzales, Calif., is looking for a suitable place to hang out his shingle in this city. Matt Lorresant, of Garbenate Lodge No. 16, Leadville, Colo., is seeking the balmy air of this valley. Brother Phillips of Phoenix Lodge, No. 229, Galt, Calif., was reported sick at 1119 E. Fillmore St.

Next meeting night is nomination of officers. Visiting Odd Fellows are cordially invited to meet with us every Tuesday evening, 7:30.

Woman's Benefit Association
Mesa Review, No. 4, will hold its social evening at Moose Hall Wednesday evening, November 17th, at 8 o'clock. All visiting Maceabers are cordially invited to attend.
The Sewing Circle meet with Mrs. Birdie Karis Thursday afternoon. The business hour completed all rules and plans, sewing hour was spent with dolls. Dainty refreshments were served by our charming hostess and twelve ladies departed feeling well satisfied with the gain of the afternoon's work.
Mrs. Anna Stricker will entertain the Sewing Club, Thursday afternoon of Fair Week opposite Palm Lodge. This day will be particularly devoted to baby dresses and business will be called to order promptly at two.

Knights and Ladies of Security
With the new officers in their chairs the members of Phoenix Council 2225, dropped into the work of doing things with a great deal of zeal and energy. Three candidates were balloted on, and other important work dispatched. Committees were appointed to arrange for a banquet, which will be served immediately after the initiations and some other routine work is disposed of, at the next meeting, which will occur Thanksgiving night.

Knights of Columbus

Many months will pass before the "quail mulligan" of last Tuesday evening ceases to be the main topic among the members of Marcos de Niza council and their friends. So successful was the affair, those who were present and many who were not, are insisting that Lecturer P. C. Gettins give the Knights of Columbus another such affair in the near future.

In an eloquent and interesting address on "Good Citizenship" ex-Governor R. E. Sloan said many things which will remain long in the memory of those fortunate enough to be present and hear him. Speaking from an absolutely unbiased point of view he called attention to the essential features of citizenship and its value to the nation.

Good citizenship, said ex-Governor Sloan, is not the frenzy of the moment, which might lead to some impulsive patriotic act, but is the mature conviction, reached by the individual after study and thought.

Following enthusiastic dreamers, who play upon the feelings of the people, and while they are in that condition mislead them into acts, which are later regretted, was warned against by the speaker. He urged that each person examine each, and having gained full knowledge, then decide for the good of the nation.

Hyphenated Americans were called upon to drop the hyphen, and give their undivided loyalty and allegiance to the land of their adoption. The speaker warned against permitting sympathy for the mother country to draw one into acts which might be later classed as disloyalty to this country and against good citizenship.

Many times during his remarks, ex-Governor Sloan was forced to pause for applause. At the close he was tendered an ovation, many coming forward to thank and congratulate him.

The prize of a "mulligan" that would be the greatest ever was fully kept, and the 200, who partook of Chef E. A. Tricano's delectable preparation unanimously voted him the best fellow on earth and by far the best cook. In addition to the big bowl of "mulligan," olives, potato salad, pickles, sandwiches and coffee were served.

Tricano was given the surprise of his life when he was ordered brought blindfolded into the council chamber. He was advised that it had been decided to make him a member of "The Knights of Columbus, Ohio." With proper ritualistic ceremony, Tricano was crowned "King of the Mulligan Guards," and just as he was getting ready for the rough work was told to extend his hands to receive the emblem of membership.

The signal was given to remove the blindfold, and Tricano discovered that he was holding a handsome silver smoking set, presented to him by Marcos de Niza council in appreciation of his assistance in making the affair a big success. His response was to invite the boys out into the banquet room to eat "mulligan."

Lecturer Gettins gave the members a surprise in the excellent musical program he had prepared. Each number was a decided hit, and each performer was obliged to respond to several encores.

Edmund Myers, already famous and in much demand as "Mike, the Irish-German Tenor," sang "Carlo's Lament from Pagliacci, and it seemed as if Caruso had dropped in for the evening. He responded to the applause with "I Hear You Calling Me."

Howard Enyart, known locally and on the grand opera circuit as "The Merry Widow Baritone," sang "Good Night, Beloved," "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "The Rosary." It reminded one of the days when the Boston Opera company visited Phoenix on their western tours.

George E. Kellogg, justly renowned as vocalist, pianist and impersonator and Myers teamed on "Steamboat Bill," and then came back with "That Yodling Zule Rag."

Kellogg brought the fine program to a close with his bughable impersonation of "Fritz Pumpnickle." His handling of the current political questions caused many to think that Weber of Weber and Fields was on the platform.

Several selections by Donofrio's orchestra, including "Tipperary," and "Where the River Shannon Flows," brought forth applause. It was with difficulty that the musicians departed so anxious were the knights and their friends to hear more.

Many non-members were present. For some of them it was their first opportunity to learn the way the Knights of Columbus do things. Several indicated that they will shortly submit applications for membership.

Knights of Pythias

Definite information has been received by our Grand Chancellor Tom M. Smith, regarding the official visit of the Supreme Chancellor, Briggs S. Young. He is now visiting the lodges in California and will be in Phoenix on December 3rd. This will be the only stop of the distinguished visitor in this valley, so Phoenix Lodge No. 2, has planned a state entertainment. Invitations will be sent to all the lodges in the state to join us in giving the Supreme Chancellor a royal entertainment.

A committee of which the Grand Chancellor is chairman is now working on the manner of the entertain-

GOODYEAR FACTORY
BRANCH IS OPENED

Temporary Quarters Opened By Manager Roseland; Office Force
On the Job.

The new Goodyear factory branch is open and ready for business. Four thousand five hundred pneumatic tires are in stock now, and more on the way, with truck tires and mechanical rubber goods still to come. The branch is occupying a temporary location on North Central, next to Green and Griffin's, but about the first of the year will move into its own home at 324 North Central, where its building is under construction.

This branch is under the general management of H. T. Roseland, formerly of Syracuse, New York, and is manned as follows: J. B. Thompson, chief clerk; A. B. Remington, stock manager; and Paul Doty, receiving clerk. Roseland, Thompson and Remington are all experienced Goodyear men, both in the manufacturing and selling divisions, while Doty is a local man who has just joined the great Goodyear army.

The tire stock is carried in the rooms formerly occupied by the Phoenix Cycle company, while the adjoining rooms on the south are nicely fitted up for office purposes. Manager Roseland extends a welcome to all visiting dealers to make his office their headquarters fair week, and to get acquainted with the force.

ment, and according to his report the meeting will have to be held in some other hall than the K. of P., owing to the fact that it will not be large enough, the Elks opera house and the High School auditorium has been suggested. The principal event of the evening will be the address of the Supreme Chancellor, which will take about one hour. The Temple lodge has been asked to put on the amplified first rank, and a short musical program will about cover the evening. This meeting is going to be open to K. P.'s, their families and friends.

Next Friday night the D. O. K. R. have been given the hall for their ceremonial and the Friday night following will be devoted to business and the nomination of officers.

D. O. K. K.

The Dokeys are to hold their ceremonial next Friday night. The parade will start promptly at 7:30 so the votaries should be in their costumes at that time.
